Help KOR Properties Make the Holidays Special for Children in Foster Care

Submitted by KOR Properties

This November, KOR Properties will once again be working with Helen's Hope Chest to collect Christmas stockings filled with gifts for 2,000 local youth in foster care, and we need your help to meet our goal.

Each year, Helen's Hope Chest hosts an annual holiday toy drive, called JaKelle's Christmas Box, which provides more than 2,000 children a bundle of age-appropriate gifts, stuffed animals, books, and more. Throughout the week-long distribution event in December, foster caregivers shop through a free pop-up toy store — lovingly described as the North Pole of the Desert — to handpick items they know the children in their care will love.

For the past six years, KOR Properties has been supporting JaKelle's Christmas Box through its own Stocking Drive by recruiting friends, neighbors, clients, churches, and businesses to contribute Christmas stockings filled with small toys, art supplies, candy, and stuffed animals.

"When we founded KOR Properties, we wanted to create a project that would support the children in our community. We were grateful to partner with Helen's Hope Chest, and it has been tremendous to watch our Stocking Drive grow," said Natascha Ovando-Karadsheh, owner and associate broker of KOR Properties. "It is a great project to do with friends, neighbors, coworkers, and family of all ages and abilities, and everyone enjoys making the stockings as much as the children enjoy receiving them!"

Those who wish to participate before the deadline of Dec. 2 can sign up to contribute stockings by visiting korproperties.com/stocking-drive. The website has a sign-up link, gift guidelines, and drop-off instructions.

For those who wish to contribute financially, either in addition to or in lieu of stockings, visit helenshopechest.org/jakelle. Helen's Hope Chest is also a Qualifying Foster Charitable Organization (QFCO) for the Arizona Foster Care Tax Credit when you use QFCO '10013.' Please visit helenshopechest.org for more information.

On behalf of all the agents of KOR Properties, we appreciate your continued support of the Stocking Drive, Helen's Hope Chest, and our community. Thank you and we wish you and your families a very Happy Thanksgiving! ■

Red Mountain Ranch Garage Sale RIGHT AROUND THE CORNER

Submitted by Sandy Balsley, Garage Sale Coordinator

Attention Shoppers! The Red Mountain Ranch Social Club's Garage Sale is right around the corner.

The 32nd annual Community Garage Sale is set for Friday, Nov. 12, and Saturday, Nov. 13. If you want to sign up as a participant, you still have time to make some money on those items you no longer need.

Our sale brings hundreds of buyers to Red Mountain Ranch, as they love the bargains they find. The garage sale will start on Friday and Saturday mornings as participants place items for sale on their driveway or in their garage. Buyers start touring our neighborhoods early.

Maps of the participants will be available at the two main entrances to Red Mountain Ranch, Power Road and Redmont Drive, and Recker and Thomas roads. If you wish your address to be included in the Garage Sale Information Packet and on the maps, please register before Nov. 5. ■

To register for the garage sale, please go to our website RMRSC.com and click the Garage Sale page. You can pay online or send a check payable to RMRSC c/o J. Fortner, Treasurer, 3747 N. Katmai Circle, Mesa, AZ, 85215. If you have questions, call or email Sandy Balsley, garage sale coordinator, at (208) 313-5399 or ronsanb64@yahoo.com.

The primary focus of The Jack Sullivan Foundation for Life and Learning is to fund scholarships for The Lifelab Institute, which is implementing a flagship location in Mesa, the first Autism Certified City in America.
Founded by Laura Sullivan, the mother of her oldest son Jack, 22, who has autism, the Sullivan family moved in June 2019 from New York to Mesa, where services for special needs adults are among the best in the country.
The Lifelab Institute is unique, designed to provide a positive, hands-on/goal-oriented approach to teaching essential life and social skills in a safe, nurturing simulated home environment. The program is modeled to address real life and social skills needed to foster confidence and eventual self-reliance and independence. ■

EDUCATION

Positive Classroom Environment Helps STUDENTS THRIVE DESPITE THE PANDEMIC

By Sami Majeed, J.D., Chief of Schools, Self Development Academy

We might have heard individuals say the following statements, and we wondered what were they referring to?

“Oh, my stars!”

“COVID was quite a year!”

“Schools certainly are struggling to ensure their students are paying attention!”

Come to think of it, those are all true sentences. In fact, we should revisit each one. However, first, the actual intended answers to what Oh, my stars! might mean.

My stars is how several teachers greet students every morning at Self Development Academy (SDA). Teachers welcome the students and set the tone for positive interactions.

STAR, a term from the book, Teach Like a Champion, by Doug Lemov, is actually an acronym for proper student conduct we emphasize at SDA. And we use it to refer to our students displaying the following behavior:

Sit tall

Track the speaker

Ask and answer questions

Respect those around you.

Indeed, teaching during COVID was quite a year. Last year, students across the country were never asked to Sit up tall, Track the speaker, Ask or answer questions, nor were there any students in their immediate vicinity to Respect.

Our nation’s entire student body spent a year in child-time learning on their own terms and mostly remotely. At SDA, as the students returned in person, we had to be ready to motivate students to be engaged in their quest for acquiring knowledge. We aimed to provide SDA students with more opportunities for learning. We did not just add a few interventions to improve learning. We worked hard to find solutions exponentially to make up for the student learning loss and improve student morale.

Although students at some schools have struggled with paying attention in school, Self Development Academy has good news for students attending in-person learning: student morale is up. The Education Week Research Center Student survey (Sept./Oct. 2021) validates SDA’s observation. The Education Week’s survey based on the perceptions of educators reports that student morale is up, especially in schools that have held more in-person learning.

At SDA, for the current year and the coming year, we are resuming our diverse catalogue of courses. We have already implemented our own handcrafted and adaptive learning programs for children. Why? Because we cannot really blame children who find remote learning less than thoroughly bewitching. Students are experiencing severe learning gaps.

It is our responsibility as educators to identify where our children are academically, and it is our responsibility for teaching them to reach high levels of academic achievement. This year, our programs will allow the students to soar through a kaleidoscope of critical and creative thinking programs, mindfulness, coding, and music and art.

We are even going further to ensure that we continue to maintain curious, captivated, attentive students who possess SDA’s high motivation levels for learning. High levels of motivation need high levels of student morale. To improve student morale, we designed a program that moves the needle toward motivated students through peer-generated positive reinforcement.

Our program provides persistent positive reinforcement of students’ good behaviors by their peers. The positive recognition by their peers helps our students to know just how spectacular they are and just how infinitely promising their lives can be.

Additionally, SDA is boosting students’ morale by engaging students in a plethora of ways by focusing on their well-being and safety. By providing a supportive and nurturing environment, students look forward to attending school, enjoy hanging around with their friends at school, and learn to collaborate with their friends, and show respect to their teachers. Students are engaged in their learning.

At SDA, each day, the teacher greets them enthusiastically by saying, “Hello, my STARS.” Students, in turn, develop self-discipline and confidence to achieve success. The students believe that they are creative, thoughtful, philosophizing students. The teacher’s message is heard loud and clear: “My incurably curious students, my STAR students, my high achievers.”

Lastly, please note: Kindergarten Parent Information Night is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 4, at 6 p.m. at our Mesa Campus, 1709 N. Greenfield Road, Mesa, AZ, 85205. ■

Newest Technology in the East Valley for Anti-Wrinkle Treatment!

Clinically proven technology - A multi-center clinical studies evaluated the clinical effects of Sofwave’s ultrasound technology on facial wrinkles and necklines, 88% of patients were marked as improved or significantly improved 12 weeks after a single treatment

Safe and effective, no side effects - Proprietary Intense Ultrasound Beam™ (IUB) technology with integrated cooling, enables treatment at the optimal depth in the mid-dermis, while ensuring no damage to the epidermis or to the underlying structures beneath the dermis

Non-invasive, no downtime - Ultrasound energy precisely passes through the skin’s surface, heating the mid-dermal tissue at just the right depth and temperature to rejuvenate collagen fibres and improve the overall appearance of aging skin. Patients can get right back to normal life immediately following treatment

Fast 30 - 40 min treatment - This quick full face and neck treatment is more comfortable, easy to perform and can actually be done during a lunch break

Treats all skin types - Darker skin types are more susceptible to burns with laser and light-based therapies. With Ultrasound, the treatment is safe and effective regardless of the patient’s skin type

High patient satisfaction - In a multi-centre clinical study, 72% of the patients were satisfied with their results and rated them as improved to very much improved

HOW DOES SOFWAVE WORK?

The ideal depth for treating wrinkles is 1.5mm in the mid-dermis. Our unique, Intense Ultrasound Beam™ (IUB) technology generates heat at this exact depth in the mid-dermis. Additionally, there is an integrated cooling mechanism that protects the uppermost skin layer from burning.

The impacted treatment zones stimulate a healing response, called neo-collagenases, which increases and regenerates the collagen in the skin, leading to the reduction in fine lines and wrinkles.

NEW FALL MENU AT THE PATIO & GRILLE

As the new Arizona Outdoor Living Season has begun, so too has a new fall menu been created by our culinary team at The Patio & Grille. Enjoy a delightful, fine dining experience in a casual atmosphere surrounded by breathtaking views of the sunsets, Valley city lights, mountain peaks, and desert.

The new fall menu includes dishes such as Chilean Sea Bass, Braised Short Rib Mac and Cheese, Grilled Duroc Tomahawk Pork Chop, New Zealand Rack of Lamb, and more.

In addition, listen to live music Wednesday through Saturday from 6 to 9 p.m. on The Patio. It's a popular venue this time of year, so reservations are highly recommended. Call (480) 396-4000, Ext. 220.

Relaxing Sundays are special here at Las Sendas. Join us on The Patio for delicious Sunday Brunch from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. with the best Valley views and live music.

Or if sports are your thing, come inside The Grille and watch locally broadcast football games on one of our 15 TVs, while enjoying refreshing libations and unique bar food or great burgers and sandwiches.

LIVING THE LAS SENDAS LIFE

"Being a part of what I like to call Living the Las Sendas Life is just so amazing," said Director of Catering Sales Carla Shaw. "Here at The Vistas Pavilion, we get to plan and execute so many exciting events, and we are pleased to see so many of our residents and members enjoy all that Las Sendas offers."

If you are looking to plan a party, Carla says she and her staff are here to assist you in all phases of the event. They specialize in weddings, rehearsal dinners, birthday parties, bar/bat mitzvahs, bridal showers, baby showers, anniversary parties, retirement parties, and all types of celebrations and milestones. As the holidays are quickly approaching, they are here to make your celebration effortless.

HOLIDAY MEAL DEALS

Time for Turkey Take-Out. There are still a few limited openings for the Turkey Take-Out meal, so make a reservation now.

Start a friends and family tradition — Prime Rib Christmas Eve Dinner! Bring home our Holiday Prime Rib Dinner complete with Antipasti Platter, Green Salad, Roasted Herb-Crusted Prime Rib (6-7 lbs) with Au Jus and Horseradish Cream, Boursin Whipped Potatoes, and Buttered Broccolini with Roasted Peppers, all for $350. We have limited bookings for this meal, so please call early and make your reservation

Plan a romantic HoliDate. Spend some quality time with that special person before the holiday season gets too hectic. Book a table for our Champagne Reception, Friday, Dec. 3. You and your special someone will be served a variety of French champagnes paired with delectable hors d'oeuvres.

For information or reservations for any of The Vistas Pavilion events, contact Carla at (480) 396-4000, Ext. 222, or email cshaw@lassendas.com.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING STARTS NOW AT THE PRO SHOP

"It's never too early to start shopping for the holidays — especially this year," Director of Golf Michael Field recommends. The Las Sendas Pro Shop is full of all the best gift ideas for everyone on your list. Some of the popular items include Theraguns, Las Sendas rocks glass and decanter sets, and athletic wear from VUORI.

Overseed is done, the course is back open and the weather is the best of the year. For those taking advantage of our fantastic golf course, Michael suggests to be sure to book your tee time well in advance. These next few months are expected to be the busiest the Phoenix Metro area has ever seen. You can book tee times at our lowest rates up to 30 days in advance on our website, www.lassendas.com.

And for more fun, don't forget about Back Nine and Breakfast. We have early morning tee times daily for nine holes, including breakfast at the Las Sendas Grille. You can sit down, order your favorite items off the menu, and enjoy the cool autumn air, said Michael. "We look forward to seeing you soon." ■

For the Pro Shop, call (480) 396-4000, Ext.203, or email mfield@lassendas.com.

FINANCES

THE GOALPOSTS ARE MOVING

By Michael J. Day, CPA, PFS™
Grand Canyon Wealth Management

Tax laws are constantly changing and the current proposals, if passed, will have significant changes to tax rates, tax brackets, and the treatment of retirement plans.

With all of the proposed changes, it would be beneficial to have an analysis done of your current accounts to determine if a conversion from your pre-tax retirement accounts to a Roth retirement account makes sense for you.

Some of the advantages of a Roth retirement account over a pretax retirement account are that earnings in the Roth account are exempt from income tax and if the account is a Roth IRA, there is no requirement for required minimum distributions (RMDs).

Current tax law changes that are being proposed would increase tax rates, potentially limit Roth conversions in the future, as well as eliminate some allowable contributions to Roth accounts. The proposals also include a reduction of the lifetime estate tax exemption from $11,700,000 to either half that amount or even as low as $3,500,000.

By performing a Roth conversion, it would have the added benefit of reducing your taxable estate. You may also be affected by a provision in a previous budget bill that could require you to remove money from your retirement accounts if they exceed a certain dollar amount, which a Roth conversion will also assist with.

Your situation may be more advantageous to convert all of your eligible retirement accounts at one time or by implementing a plan to convert a portion of your accounts over a period of years by taking advantage of the tax brackets and by performing a dollar-cost averaging of your investment portfolio.

Performing a Roth conversion is not only an investment issue, it is a tax issue and an estate planning issue. The timing of the conversion, timing of tax payments, and other administrative issues should all be considered prior to the conversion. Having a knowledgeable and experienced financial and tax professional assist you through this process can help you avoid some of the mistakes that can be made and help you obtain the greatest benefit to you and your family.

Unlike contributions to an IRA with a deadline of your tax filing date, a Roth conversion must be done during the calendar year to take advantage of the current tax laws. So, act now to make sure that if a Roth conversion would benefit you that you have the time to complete the transaction before the end of the year. Failure to complete the transaction before year-end will subject you to the new potential tax rates as well as potentially make your account ineligible for conversion based upon the new tax laws.

If you would like a complimentary analysis of your retirement accounts to see how a Roth conversion could potentially benefit you, please feel free to reach out to me. Just because the goalposts are moving does not mean that the game is over. ■ Traditional IRA account owners have considerations to make before performing a Roth IRA conversion. They primarily include income tax consequences on the converted amount in the year of conversion and withdrawal limitations for future contributions to a Roth IRA. In addition, if you are required to take a required minimum distribution (RMD) in the year you convert, you must do so before converting to a Roth IRA. This information is not intended to be a substitute for specific individualized tax advice. We suggest that you discuss your specific tax issues with a qualified tax advisor.

Understanding the Buyer and Seller Closing Costs

By Lorraine Ryall
Associate Broker, CDPE,
CSSN, CNE
KOR Properties

Whether you are the buyer or seller, there are closing costs that need to be paid at closing and knowing these fees up front and what to expect will help you be prepared and not have any last-minute surprises. Fees will vary between lenders, loan type and terms, and title companies.

If you need to refer back to these estimates, you can find them on my website Homes2SellAZ.com under the blog tab.

FOR THE SELLER

The two Sellers Closing Costs Estimates below are based on fees from Security Title. Remember, fees will vary between title companies, but this gives you an idea of what fees to expect when selling a home in Mesa (taxes will vary by city). This is before any payoff of your current mortgage(s).

- These estimates are based on:
- Sales price of $400,000 and $800,000
- Close of escrow date of November 15
- Seller paying the Home Warranty
- Standard realtor commissions of six percent, split three percent for listing agent and three percent for selling agent

Your realtor can provide you with a closing cost estimate at any time. When I meet with my sellers, I will run the closing cost estimate as soon as we decide on a listing price for the home so they can see what they will net, and with my buyers how much additional costs they are going to have to pay at closing. It's a great tool for both the buyer and seller to understand how much they have to pay or how much they will receive at closing.

FOR THE BUYER

The two Buyers Closing Cost Estimates below are based on fees from Security Title. The biggest difference in fees will be the lender fees. Some may not have many fees at closing as they bundle them into the loan, others may be a lot higher or lower. One lender may not have an origination fee, and another may charge $4,000, so it's very important for the buyer to understand what fees the lender will charge and how that may affect the mortgage rate.

These estimates give you an idea of what fees may be charged and what to expect when buying a home in Mesa (taxes will vary by city).

- These estimates are based on:
- Purchase price of $400,000 and $800,000
- Close of escrow date of November 15
- Conventional loan at 3.5 percent, 30-year term
- 20 percent down payment

Your CBD Store Helps Customers Get TRIM
FALL LAUNCH OF FIRST-EVER CBD WEIGHT-LOSS PRODUCT LINE

Submitted by Your CBD Store, Mesa

Your CBD Store Mesa is a local franchise of the largest CBD retailer in the United States and a disruptor that has shaken up the hemp and CBD industry with a unique approach to plant science.

The local company has announced its most innovative product line yet — TRIM by SUNMED™. Now available exclusively at Your CBD Store locations across the USA, the efficacy of this revolutionary new line of weight loss products is corroborated by a first-of-its-kind human clinical study, which showed a remarkable rate of success amongst participants spanning over 13 weeks.

The results of the study confirm the natural appetite suppressing benefits of THC-V, the core component of the TRIM by SUNMED™ product line. “This is extremely exciting,” states Your CBD Store Mesa owner Tiana Klimczak. “People regularly come into the store and ask if we have anything that can naturally provide weight loss and now, we can help them.”

“Your CBD Store is committed to bringing new and innovative products to our customers on a consistent basis, in a safe way that is backed by extensive research and our approach to plant science,” said Marcus Quinn, founder of Your CBD Store. “Our customers are at the heart of all product development, and we believe that TRIM by SUNMED™ fills a major void that has existed in the marketplace, using natural weight loss remedies as opposed to harsh stimulants, allowing hemp to do the work.”

TRIM by SUNMED™ is a solution for those seeking a natural alternative to kickstart their health and fitness journey. While traditional weight loss supplements routinely combine harmful stimulants and caffeine, causing adverse side effects that range from rapid heart rate to the jitters and headaches, TRIM by SUNMED™ utilizes therapeutic naturally derived cannabinoids that antagonize the CB-1 receptor and suppress pesky cravings.

By incorporating TRIM by SUNMED™ products into their daily routine — which should also include a healthy diet and active lifestyle — consumers can boost the effectiveness of their exercise and nutrition without making extreme adjustments. The recommended serving is 50mg per day over a 90-day introductory period. Clinical trials have shown up to 18 pounds in weight reduction and up to 6 inches in waistline reduction resulting from consistent use of TRIM by SUNMED™ over the 90-day period (with averages of weight and waistline reductions of 9 pounds and 3 inches, respectively, results may vary).

Starting at an introductory price of $100, TRIM is available in a tincture and a soft gel capsule, exclusively sold at Your CBD Store locations nationwide. The TRIM launch comes after nearly two decades of global research around the connection between herbal dietary supplements and weight loss.

The product’s most notable cannabinoid, THC-V, targets receptors in the brain associated with cravings, which lets the body know that it is satisfied — the opposite of the heightened cravings often associated with many other cannabis products. The benefits of TRIM not only include weight loss, but also improved sleep, reduced anxiety, and pain relief.

“We are excited to continue our path as a disruptor, leaning heavily on research and science to introduce new products that truly enhance the lives of our customers,” said Dr. Anthony Ferrari, chief science officer of Your CBD Store.

“This natural approach to weight loss has many added benefits such as anti-inflammation, deeper and longer sleep as well as a reduction in pain, depression, and anxiety,” he concluded. ■

Your CBD Store, Mesa is located at 345 S. Power Road, Unit 104. For more information, call the store at (480) 597-6887. Your CBD Store is available to ship products nationwide.

Meet Dr. Birdsong of SCHWARTZ LASER EYE CENTER

By Kimberly Alvarado

The professionals at Schwartz Laser Eye Center are pleased to introduce a partnering ophthalmologist and new Arizona resident, Dr. Orry Birdsong.

After completing his medical school residency training in Galveston, the Texas native and his wife, Tayrsa, left Texas last year during a late February snowstorm that swept across the nation.

“My wife’s family is from Salt Lake City, Utah and my family is from Amarillo, Texas,” says Dr. Birdsong. “We were looking for a place to reside that was a little bit closer to her family,” he added.

When the opportunity arose to partner with the team at Schwartz Laser Eye Center, the Birdsongs believed it to be a great one. The new Arizonans find themselves in a state right between extended family. “We are literally a 30-minute difference in drive time between Tayrsa’s hometown and mine,” said Dr. Birdsong.

Dr. Birdsong’s training has taken him all over the world, enabling him to provide eye care for different populations. “It is without question that my time in Ghana was the most humbling and rewarding experience of my professional career, thus far, and it still motivates me today,” he recalls.

Working with people in communities that are more agriculture or manual labor-based has proven that restoring people’s vision does much more for them than merely providing sight. Dr. Birdsong believes that his influences in Ghana helped tribes-people with unclear or little vision from being viewed as being possessed by demons.

He witnessed the benefits of his work among younger family members who cared for his patients there. These youngsters’ lives were also positively impacted, as they were able to return to school, allowing them to make a living for their families and be accepted within their culture. The rewards of these experiences motivate him to practice these same quality-of-life improvement principles for his current patients in Arizona.

Fast-forward to a recent situation with an Arizona patient who recently had to quit her job due to her inability to see because of early-onset cataracts. After receiving cataract surgery, her vision was greatly improved to the point of being able to return to work. The patient has reported that she feels like she has her life back again.

Situations like these, and from prior experiences in Ghana, have reminded Dr. Birdsong that vision is truly much more than seeing. Sight has the potential to change a person’s outlook literally and metaphorically on life.

Dr. Birdsong is quick to give credit, where credit is due, for the journey that has turned his profession into his dream. “I was extremely lucky to be born to two amazing parents who worked multiple jobs providing for my sister and I to give us a better life than they had. They taught me how to work hard from an early age and that foundation shaped me today.”

Professionally, he recognizes his residency director, Dr. Kevin Merkley, and his fellowship director, Dr. Majid Moshirfar, for teaching him the nuances, and the do’s and the don’ts of the field of ophthalmology for which he is truly grateful. ■

Whether you’re inspired to see the world more clearly without glasses or contact lenses, the Schwartz Laser Eye Center, locally located at 3130 E. Baseline Road, Suite 101, hosts a professional team of doctors willing to address your needs. Visit them online at schwartzlaser.com, or call (480) 483-3937, and prepare to be treated like a superstar.

EDUCATION

The Benefits of Play Encourage Learning

By Laurie Struna
Photos by Samantha Chow, Nina Allread, and Tim Hacker

Parents, grandparents, and caregivers play a special role in helping young learners develop literacy skills. There are a variety of ways families can engage young children in the home, helping them become lifelong learners.

According to Trisha Pemberton, early learning specialist at Mesa Public Schools, research shows play is an important key to early literacy. Children need to play because it activates all parts of the brain, helping them build executive function skills, and triggers curiosity or inquiry skills. Play helps children develop social, language, and communication skills. It also builds confidence and makes children feel loved. By simply talking, reading, or singing together, caretakers can support their child's early learning.

"Children are successful when they are engaged in doing what their brains are designed to do, which is playing," Trisha says. "During play, children develop language skills and vocabulary. It's also when social norms and rules can be more easily taught because they make sense to children."

Looking for ways to support young learners? Here are a few tips from Trisha:

- Sing and dance together. Singing can introduce young children to new vocabulary words in a fun way.
- Play with your young learner, whether it's drawing, make-believe, or another fun activity. These interactions help children develop and understand language.
- Celebrate your family history. Create beautiful interactions in the kitchen, cooking special foods, and sharing a story about a cultural family tradition.
- Share a favorite memory and ask the child to share one of their favorite memories. Are there familial things that happen when a grandmother or uncle visits? How does the family engage? It's in these pieces that children develop a robust vocabulary.
- Read a favorite book together. Ask your child to select the book and have them share why it is special. Provide opportunities for young children to voice their preferences.
- Share a time as a child when it may have been challenging to learn something. Empower your children by encouraging them to ask questions. Maybe they want to know why grandpa has big ears. They aren't being disrespectful, it's their way of using their inquiry skills. ■

CORDLESS WINDOW TREATMENTS OFFER a safer option for little ones and pets

Submitted by Linda Palm, Window to Design

With their sleek, uncluttered look, cordless window treatments are an attractive option no matter what your taste in design.

Aesthetics aside, however, cordless window treatments are a safer option than corded window treatments, if you have small children or pets in your home.

Cordless window treatments are great for standard size, easy to reach windows. Cordless, horizontal blinds and shades operate with a cordless lifting mechanism, making opening and closing a snap. Simply pull down on the bottom rail or push up from the base of the rail. To open and close blind slats, tilt the rail forward or backward. (Some blinds come with a tilt wand that you twist to rotate the slats, rather than tilting the rail.)

For the ultimate in cordless ease, you might want to consider automated (smart) blinds and shades. You can control automated blinds or shades with a remote, an app on your smartphone, or even your voice (when integrated with a smart home system).

For added convenience, you can schedule automated shades to move at certain times of the day, like open at 7 a.m. every morning for your first cup of coffee. ■

Smart Shade Has You Covered with High-Quality Home Shade Sails

By Jamie Killin

Even as cooler weather approaches, Arizona's blistering sunshine can make enjoying your yard less than comfortable.

When 360 Smart Shade co-founders Dan Oberan and Dave Fish developed this proprietary design, they knew they wanted to create a high quality, attractive, and uniquely adjustable long-lasting product that could provide shade to many areas of a home — from the patio to the pool, and more.

"It's for someone who wants to have shade over their patio because it's so blasted hot, or part of their pool so they can use their pool more in the summer, or even over their car, truck, or RV where they might have had to replace their paint or roof because it's been eaten away by the sun," said Dan.

360 Smart Shades are also made to last — made with top-quality heavy-duty drill-steel poles. Drill-steel pipe is engineered to withstand extreme pressures of oil and gas, reaching thousands of feet underground. With these industry standards, 360 Smart Shades can easily warranty poles for your backyard shade for 20 years. And the durable Commercial-95 shades material is guaranteed for 10 years by the sub-contracted manufacturer.

The shades are stylish too, with a simple color selection of hard enamel-coated metal poles and shades available in 17 colors to perfectly match any yard. Customers can even opt for the lighting package with string lights added to the perimeter of the shade as well.

Right now, shades are available only in the greater Phoenix area at this time. But soon a shippable DIY option will be available, including poles. In addition, a customer can opt for a customized order to fit any pole a customer may have and would like to use with 360 Smart Shade's DIY option. So, homeowners can opt for a full installation, or if they have their own poles, put the shade together themselves.

360 Smart Shade is on the leading edge of residential shade and fun! For example, the company is in the early stages of what is called fence extenders, fully compatible with all HOA rules and regulations.

For more details, check the drop down for the product on the website and a customer representative will contact you with answers.

This product can turn your backyard into a soccer field by helping to prevent balls and sports equipment flying into neighboring yards as well as provide a one-of-a-kind privacy.

360 Smart Shade is committed to continued growth and has plans for other options for homeowners' safety, protection, and fun as well.

For more information on 360 Smart Shade, visit 360smartshade.com to fill out an interest form. Opt-in for all the new ideas and products as they become available.

Or, if you know just what you want, email the team at Support@360SmartShade.com. Please send a drawing of the 3-pole sail type shade design (or multi-pole design) if you would like faster service and a free estimate. This gives a view of what you see and can speed up the process.

Don't wait... in Arizona — "Shade is a Commodity." If you don't think so, think about when you drive anywhere in the summer around here, what do you look for when you are trying to park your car? Yep... SHADE! ■

Medicare Annual Enrollment is On

Submitted by Tapestry Insurance

It's easy to tell we are in the Medicare Annual Enrollment season. There are so many TV commercials and pieces of mail advertising different plans.

My husband is turning 65 next January and I am amazed at the amount of mail and phone calls he has received about joining a Medicare plan. So, I thought I would share some thoughts.

Medicare plans are big business. This is good news for you, the consumer, because the plans compete for your enrollment. This leads to better plans, more benefits, and more choices.

However, some of the commercials and advertisements don't give you the whole story. Many of them talk about great dental coverage but don't explain that you have to change to a dentist that accepts their plan. One advertisement tells you that you are entitled to get part of your Medicare Part B payment back. This is true for people who qualify for a low-income subsidy, which is a small part of the population.

When you call the numbers on the advertisements be careful that the person on the other end of the phone helps you with what is the correct plan for you and not the plan that benefits them. I have heard of stories of people who get switched to a plan that their doctor does not accept or does not cover a drug that they need. The best thing is to sit with someone you can trust to help you choose the plan that is best for you, not for the company.

I make appointments with clients so that together, we can identify what is needed and provide information to ensure they fully understand all of the options available. Once I help someone enroll in a plan, then I become their agent and can continue to work with them each year.

During the annual Medicare enrollment period, I speak with my clients to confirm they have been satisfied with their plan or help them choose a new plan. As a Medicare health plan agent, I don't pressure anyone, just simply provide information, present options, and let you choose what is best for your situation.

Someone asked me which plan is best. Quite honestly, it depends on what is best for each individual. ■

Protect your online financial information

Submitted by Brent D. Hoskinson and Linda Drake

It's convenient to connect with your investment accounts online – but you do have to watch out for identity thieves.

The Securities and Exchange Commission recommends several steps to protect your sensitive information. First, use strong passwords when you set up your accounts. You may also have the option of using passphrases, which consist of several words strung together. Try to avoid phrases widely used in entertainment or media.

And if your investment company offers two-step authentication, take advantage of it. By being asked to enter information such as the model of your first car, you'll achieve another layer of security.

Also, avoid public computers to access your investment accounts. If you do have to use one, make sure to log out of your account and end your online session.

Finally, don't click on links you may receive that claim to connect to your accounts. These links may be efforts by scammers to gain personal data.

By taking the proper precautions, you can enjoy the benefits of interacting with your accounts online – without exposing yourself to potential risks. ■

ARE MEDICARE PLAN CHANGES TOO CONFUSING?

Some Medicare plans are prone to change more than others each year. Let me help take some of the confusion out of choosing a plan for 2021 and beyond.

- Have you received a letter showing that your plan's rates have changed more than you would have liked?
- Would you like personalized help exploring your Medicare options?

You are not alone. This time of year is very confusing for most people that are on a Medicare plan.

Call me today for help navigating Annual Enrollment this year!
